Hair and beards gone wild

To give the wild boys some hair, take a red and a green Jumbo GRIP colour pencil and start drawing by staying within the dotted lines. Make sure you press the pencil down hard.

Now take a paintbrush, dip it into water and lay a wash across the two colours. Make sure you apply enough water to leave tiny little drips on top of the painted areas.

Then get a drinking straw and blow through it onto the drips left on the little figures – blow in an upward direction and the little man will get long purple hair. With the big guy, also blow through the straw – but this time in a downward direction – to give him a nice, funny beard.

Tip:

Draw your own funny figures and use a straw to conjure up extraordinary beards and hair styles. This will be great fun, just wait and see! Draw your own funny figures and use a straw to conjure up extraordinary beards and hair styles. This will be great fun, just wait and see!

The comic dog

Take a Jumbo colour pencil and draw a large oval shape.

Draw two dots for its eyes, a nose and a mouth full of teeth.

Finally, draw its ears, legs and a tiny little tail.

Tip: Take a paintbrush, dip it into water and lay a wash across the lower part of the oval. Use the remaining colour on the paintbrush and apply a thick stroke below the dog's feet. That will make your dog look more like a real dog, now.

Another colour of the Jumbo GRIP colour pencils will help you give your dog a funny fur.

Drawing little lambs

Take a red or a blue Jumbo GRIP colour pencil and trace over the dotted lines.

Then retrace the lines and complete the little tail and the legs.

Start right here at the head, then draw its fur and finish by adding the trees and the little tail.

Now draw your own lamb. After you have finished, colour all lambs with a yellow or orange Jumbo GRIP colour pencil.

Tip:

Since you are a real expert now, you can design your own little lambs. Simply change the position of the legs and you will see how joyfully they can run and jump around.

Sky writing

Write down your name in capital letters with a Jumbo GRIP pencil or colour pencil. Make sure you leave large spaces between the individual letters and press the pencil down hard while writing.

Now take a blue Jumbo GRIP colour pencil and draw cloud shapes around the letters. Then remove the letters in the clouds with an eraser.

To put the finishing touch to it, draw tiny semi-circles into the cloud-shaped letters. Now they look like real clouds.

Tip:

You will obtain a fantastic sky by shading the area around the word and laying a wash over it with a paintbrush and a little bit of water. The letters will get a perfect three-dimensional look when you apply a wash over the bottom and the left edge of each line.
