Graf von Faber Castell — I revel in the beauty of the handmade; and nothing is more satisfying than fine pen & calligraphy. I'm one of those mad few who judge a person's character from their handwriting!

Thank you & Salaams!

My master Mavrudis came three times a week to give me lessons of drawing. He was the first one that taught me the love for the beautiful clean lines and, for the beautiful contours and the shapes very modeled ; He was the first one that taught me the love for the good materials: pencils of mark, Faber good sharpened, first quality paper, rubbers marks Elephant, much soft; he was the first one that taught me to make the dull tip of the pencil in regular way , cutting around the wood with cure symmetry and not to make to appear the tip of the pencil like a nail deformed by oxidation.
